FOREWORD

Space for the eight high schools has been apportioned again this year according to the size of the schools and the number of pages requested. Art for the frontispiece as well as all matter for the general literary section has been selected on merit by competent non-resident judges and the judges were instructed to appraise and rank the school sections solely for quality without regard to quantity.

There have been several White and Gold trophies since 1928. Yreka retired one trophy in 1928 after having won it three times over a period of years. Mount Shasta High School won permanently the second trophy in 1940, having won it the most times in a ten-year period. Schools to win the annual awards of the trophy during that period were 1929 Yreka, 1930 Yreka, 1931 Mount Shasta, 1932 Weed, 1933 Mount Shasta, 1934 McCloud, 1935 Mount Shasta, 1936 Yreka, 1937 McCloud, 1938 Yreka and McCloud tied for first place, and in 1939 Mount Shasta, McCloud and Yreka tied for first place. Mount Shasta won the trophy permanently in 1940.

A trophy, which was presented in 1941, was to be perpetual until won three times by one school. The first award of this trophy was made to Yreka High School in 1941. The second award of this trophy was made to the McCloud High School in 1942. The award for 1943 was made to the Yreka High School. In 1944 the award of the trophy was made to the McCloud High School, and the permanent award of this trophy was made to the McCloud High School in 1945. The first award of the new trophy, pictured here, was won by Yreka in 1946. The second award of this trophy was made to McCloud High School in 1947. The third award of the trophy was made to Mount Shasta High School in 1948 and Mount Shasta High School won it again in 1949. In 1950 the trophy was awarded to the Butte Valley High School. This year the trophy was awarded to Yreka High School, for the largest number of points out of 100 distributed as follows:

THEME and DEDICATION

We, the Seniors of 1951, have chosen for our central theme "Friendship" and dedicate the 1951 White and Gold "To A Handclasp Throughout the World."

From a thin line of thirteen states on the Atlantic seaboard, Americans of many origins have builded a nation across a continent to the shores of the Pacific, writing as they pressed on and on the American saga of freedom, equality, and opportunity. Along that march they paused to build public schools, all dedicated to the same high purpose, education for democracy, and liberty and justice for all. Today, in peace as in war, our country is claiming from these schools leadership they have every right to expect in the difficult work of preserving for ourselves and our posterity, the principles of freedom, justice and democracy. Our very way of life had been jeopardized with the attack on Pearl Harbor and our country accepted the gauge of battle which was forced upon us by the totalitarian governments. Into this battle for the right went the might and force of a free people fighting in defense of a cause which they knew to be just. When their country was in danger, great numbers of students and former students of the Siskiyou Joint Union High School courageously entered the Armed Forces and gallantly defended the faith of America, on land—on sea—and in the air. Our students distinguished themselves in all branches of the service. Unfortunately, though, over a hundred of our high school students in the county have been killed in action, and over a hundred others have been wounded. Several of our former teachers have given their lives for our country, too. The coming of peace and the postwar era brought problems to our country just as challenging and perhaps even more complex than those of the war, even if less dramatic. And now we have again entered a period of international crisis which calls from us the same challenge, courage and determination that the Seniors of other years have shown in times of National danger.

We the Seniors of 1951 have chosen for our central theme "Friendship," and dedicate the 1951 White and Gold "To A Handclasp Throughout the World." Every student leaving our schools takes with him memories of friends and Friendships made in High School, Friendships of students, teachers, friendly rooms, friendly corridors, to keep with him always. These are the 1951 White and Gold collections of friendships made in school. As students and citizens the two main goals we should keep before us are: First, to win and secure the peace, and second, to preserve our American way of life, which is based on our democratic American system of free enterprise and private initiative.

The American way and democracy are synonymous terms and public school is the foundation stone of democracy. Seniors of the class of 1951 of the Siskiyou Joint Union High School District are gratefully appreciative of the fine system of high schools and the splendid educational opportunities the Board of Trustees of the Siskiyou Joint Union High School District is providing for the boys and girls of Siskiyou Joint Union High Schools. We are ever mindful that the creative men who serve us as trustees and give so much of their time and energy to youth and our schools are themselves true symbols of the American way and our progressive school system.

When the Pilgrims came to America, one of their first acts was to establish a school for their children. And when the early pioneer settlers came to Siskiyou County they early established schools for the benefit of their children and their children's children. We are grateful to those early pioneers of education, and we are deeply grateful also to the men who make up the present progressive Board of Trustees of the Siskiyou Joint Union High School District, whose consciousness of the faithful and unselfish discharge of their civic duty can be their only reward and through whose efforts we are enjoying the benefits of one of the finest educational systems in the state.

The Seniors of 1951 are truly grateful and appreciative for the fine group of men who make up our progressive High School Board, and for the excellent system of high schools provided for us.

SISKIYOU COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The above picture was taken of the late John O. McBroom of Cecilville in the winter of 1914-15 as he was leaving Carter Meadows in the head of the East Fork of the South Fork of the Salmon River with the mail for Cecilville from Callahans and the outside world. Winter mail was carried by mule train after snows became packed but during periods of storm first-class mail was carried out by McBroom, using skis or snowshoes. McBroom packed supplies and hunting and fishing parties throughout the Salmon River Country for many years.

The Siskiyou County Historical Society's collection of photographs and stories of pioneer days is growing rapidly. Copies of early photos are earnestly solicited.

KLAMATH NATIONAL FOREST

U. S. Forest Service Photo

The Klamath River in its course from the lakes of eastern Oregon to the Pacific Ocean crosses the northern part of Siskiyou County and the entire breadth of the Klamath National Forest. Much of this distance is through rugged canyons and gorges of magnificent beauty. It is recognized throughout the Nation as one of the greatest fishing streams and anglers from all parts of the world have fished its waters for salmon and steelhead. Tributary streams are also well stocked and the country through which it flows abounds with game.

The people of Siskiyou County co-operate with the Klamath National Forest in the protection and conservation of the natural resources which make this land a truly great recreation area.

SHASTA NATIONAL FOREST

The most important of our Natural Resources is water. Normally we think of water as something which we can use and throw away, because it is perpetually being reclaimed and made available to us again in its pure state by natural forces.

Today, with our population increases and with the increase of industrial demands for pure water, leaving it up to nature to keep us supplied with sufficient of this lifeblood of the Nation just will not work.

Nature will do its share in water production, but the management of that water for our use, the making the most of it before it is finally released into the oceans, is up to us.

The biggest part of the job of Water Management lies in the areas where it first drops to earth. Luckily the major portion of California's watersheds lies within the National Forests.

Rainfall here is intercepted by trees and brush and so when it reaches the ground after soaking thru the carpet of leaves and needles it sinks easily into the loose soil beneath and so reaches the vast underground reservoirs, which in their turn yield it back to crops and streams during the long rainless periods. When the soil is bared to the rain by fire or other means, the rainfall soon packs the surface tight and then rushes off into the stream causing flood and disaster.

Within the Shasta National Forest lies one of the most important watersheds in the State of California. In those portions drainages of the Sacramento, McCloud, Pit and Trinity Rivers, which lie within the Forest, the rainfall often reaches 100 inches per year.

This water impounded behind Shasta Dam provides irrigation for both the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys, assists navigation on the Sacramento River, prevents Salt Water damage in the industrial Bay Area, and protects the Lower Sacramento Valley from devastating floods.

FRIENDSHIP

(Best Essay)

Friendship is a world problem, or perhaps it would be better to say the lack of friendship is a world problem.

The only way it is possible to achieve the goal of all mankind PEACE is to obtain universal friendship. Before global friendship can even be hoped for, we must first of all learn to live happily with our neighbors.

It is easy to talk about friendship, but quite a different matter to do something about it.

In order to achieve world friendship, it seems the best place to start is with little types of bickering. If everyone in the world should decide to change every enemy into a friend, through personal acts of friendship, it would be a small matter to obtain world friendship.

As of right now the chances of a third World War in the near future are certainly great. The only way the problems between the United States and her enemies, who need no mentioning, can be overcome, is through the peace organization, the United Nations.

The object of the United Nations is to get all countries to live together in peace, to depend upon each other for vital necessities, and to lift the "iron curtain" which now cuts off parts of the world from each other. This can only be if first we learn to live in friendly atmosphere within our own towns and cities. That is the first step toward world friendship.

FRIENDSHIP

(Second Place Essay)

First of all, what is friendship? Friendship is a state of being friends, a respect for others, an affection arising from mutual esteem and good will. There can not be friendship without confidence.

Second, where is friendship found? Friendship can be found only in the hearts of those who want to have friends and be happy.

You see little boys and girls outside making mud pies together or at a park, zoo, and many other places. Maybe they don't even know each other, but they don't care, it's someone to play with and soon they become great friends.

At home if you are taking care of your little brother or sister, or at a neighbors taking care of their children you gradually win their confidence, and when they get hurt they come running to you for help. Why? Because they trust and have confidence in you. If you say, "Oh, don't bother me," or something of the sort, that friendship is broken.

I think friendship is the best thing a person can have or gain.

SHARON MYERS, '52
Butte Valley High School.

(Honorable Mention)

Friendship is a very hard word to define because it has so many meanings. It is a deep feeling that is hard to put into words. As in the case of a person in need, a friend comes and helps. Although no words may be exchanged there is still a feeling of friendliness.

Things like this are going on in this same way all over the world. These acts help to draw the countries and people of the world closer together.

Friendliness between different people is a great challenge to the world's youth. Tomorrow, today's youth will be the leaders of the world. In order to have peace these leaders must know the meaning of friendship and what a precious condition it is. These leaders must also learn to fully appreciate friendship, for without friendship to bind the countries of this world together there can never be total peace on the earth.

What are some of the characteristics of friendship? Before people are true friends there must be a certain amount of affection drawing them together, they should have some interests that are common to both, they must show tolerance and be willing to sacrifice for the person they call their friend. Most people think of friends as reliable, honest, kind, and usually good natured.

This is what the youth of today should be so that the world may be peacefully inclined forever.

So friendship is something you, yourself can feel, but cannot explain. Never the less, it is there and always must be even though each person has a different idea of how it may exist.

THE MINE

(Best Story)

There is an old miner's cabin deep in the Siskiyous. It has been deserted since the gold rush. It stands on the top of a rise and around it are pine trees. About fifty yards from the cabin is an old mine, and in the mine there is: well, I'll tell you the story.

One morning about a hundred years ago, an old miner awoke, yawned, stretched, dressed and went to make his breakfast. Then he went over to the mine and did his work for the day.

This miner had only one enemy and this enemy was the owner of a trading post, Silas Sims, by name. Silas Sims wanted all the gold that the miner had.

That night when the miner went to bed, he had a visitor, but he didn't know it.

Silas Sims waited until the light had gone out in the cabin. Then he went into the mine and loosened several of the wooden beams across the top and on the sides of it. Then he went home.

Unknown to Silas, the old miner had dug a hole near the entrance of the mine and buried the gold there, and also some in the mine. Somehow word had gotten around that he had hidden all the gold in his cabin. Naturally, Silas thought that was where it was. He also thought that if the miner was buried in the mine, he could explore his house and find the gold.

The next morning, the miner went to work as usual, and while he was in the mine, around noon, it caved in. The old miner heard the noise and went to the front of the mine. He dug to get out, but in vain. That night the miner was dead.

Silas Sims came back the next day to search the house. He couldn't find anything because, of course, there wasn't anything to find. He searched everywhere and even tried digging through to the mine, but the gold was not to be found.

So, somewhere, up in the Siskiyous is that cabin; in the mine there is still the gold and, of course, the skelton. Someday, why don't you go looking for it? If you find it be sure to let me know!

"SALLY"

(Second Place Story)

The sun crept through the window in Sally's room and stretched its long beams of golden rays onto her bed. Sally yawned and stretched her arms lazily. Her thoughts wandered aimlessly about everyday happenings.

But this was no plain, everyday day. No, this was the day of the Junior-Senior Ball and she had a glorious date with none other than the captain of the football team.

No, this indeed was no regular day at all. First of all, among other things, she had to rush to town and get her new formal, for a date such as this deserved a new formal. It was a dreamy creation, a low-cut neck with sequins scattered over the pink net.

By 11:00 Sally had picked up her formal and was starting home, when a dilapidated old jalopy pulled up and a laughing voice called out, "Hop in, Sally, and we'll go for a spin at Edmund's Lake."

"No, thanks, I have something else to do," she said and walked on.

"So what's with her?" came an amazed answer among the muddle of boys and girls as the with a roar of the piper the jalopy rattled on down the street.

That evening Sally, dressed in her new formal and high heels, descended slowly as the doorbell gave off a loud ring.

"Now, Buzzy, open the door and say 'Good evening' in your nicest manner," Sally instructed her brother, "and please don't be smart-alecky, for once."

Ignoring her, Buzzy threw the door open with a bang and said in the most uncivilized manner, "Hi, you gonna take my sister to a dance?"

"That's right," came an amazed answer, and Jim stepped through the doorway.

"Hello, Jim," greeted Sally, trying to cover up for her brother. "Come in and meet my parents."

Soon afterwards Sally and Jim were walking hand in hand to the dance. As they were walking along they heard the squeal of the brakes of an automobile. Far down at the end of the block they could see the car drive away. When they approached the spot where the car had stopped, they could see a little puppy lying in the road.

"Oh, Jim! It's a little puppy," cried Sally as she rushed over to it. "It's still alive, but I think it's got a broken leg."

Sally lifted the puppy onto her lap and the puppy began to whine.

"Don't, Sally, you'll get blood all over your dress," said Jim. "Better leave him there. I'm afraid he'll die anyway."

"Oh, no, I couldnt do that! Look, he must belong to the people who live in that house," she said, and started walking toward it.

As she reached the house she looked down at her new dress. The skirt had blood all over it. The door opened and a little girl exclaimed, when she saw the dog, "Oh, daddy. Buster's been hurt," and she began to cry.

Her father came to the door and gently lifted the puppy from Sally's arms.

"Thanks a lot," he said. "I'll take him to the veterinarian, I think he'll be okay."

Sally and Jim descended slowly down the steps. "Well, I guess I'd better go home and change into another formal," Sally said.

Later that evening at the ball, Jim said to her, "You know, I heard you were kind of snobbish, but after seeing what you did tonight, you proved to me that you aren't."

Sally just smiled and thought to herself, "It's not a new formal or hairstyle that counts—it's what you are inside."

DON'T BE DISAPPOINTED

(Honorable Mention)

When you've been out climbing up hill, down hill and over high, rocky mountains all day buck hunting and don't see anything, naturally you're disappointed. But don't be disappointed then—wait until you've been climbing all day and you feel as if you can't take another step, you lay down and go to sleep. All of a sudden you wake with a start. You listen. What is that noise? It sounds like something sneaking through the brush. You're so excited you can hardly think straight. You reach for your gun, keeping your eye on the place where the crashing sounds seem to be coming from. You feel around. The noise keeps coming closer. Where is that gun? You think you've left it near. You turn around—then remember that it's up against the tree which is about three yards off to your left. Slowly you get to your hands and knees and creep over to the tree. Quickly and silently you grab the gun and get ready for anything. Suddenly, crashing through the brush is the largest buck you've ever laid eyes on. You cock the gun. Something seems to be wrong. The bullet won't go into the chamber. In the meantime the buck just stands there watching you. Finally you get the bullet in the chamber, raise the gun, and—what's happened? While you were so busy trying to get the bullet into the chamber, the buck has silently slipped away.

This is the time to be disappointed.

A SONNET TO A SPRING DAY

(Best Poem)

It is unequaled in its beauties rare
So pure and perfect in all its glory.
The sun is shining, and the sky is free
From cloud or e'en a sign of spider's snare.
A gentle breeze floats lightly in the air,
And fans the tufts of grass and tree,
And through the open window wafts to me
A voiceless call, its blessed gifts to share.
But duty dares to claim me for her own.
I cannot flee from ties which force and tear
A captive heart, by hearing not its moan,
Its sighs, or dreams for freedom it holds dear.
But as I sit and long, the real falls prone,
And I no longer know that I am here.

NANCY WADDELL

A WISH

(Second Place Poem)

I would the time had come—but it has not,
When all men everywhere might say:
"Peace and friendship—Go with God."
And mean it.

It is not necessary that we should follow
In someone's narrow way.
It is not necessary that we should ask
For anyone's yea or nay.

It is enough that we should grant
The right to choose the road,
To anyone upon the earth.
And having chosen—say:
"Peace and friendship—Go with God."
And mean it.

KAY KERSEY
Weed High School.

BEST OF ALL

(Honorable Mention)

If one should ask of you some day,
When leaves are all aflame,
Which of the seasons you like best,
I'm sure you would exclaim,
"Why autumn's best of all."

But then some stormy, wintry day,
When trees are white with snow,
And dreaming by the fire you lay,
With memories aglow,
Then winter's best of all.

And then in Spring, when robins sing,
And fragrance fills the air,
You feel in your heart a joyous ring.
For there's beauty everywhere,
And Spring is best of all.

And as the lovely days go by,
And bees begin to hum.
The noonday sun is climbing high;
Another time has come—
By far—the very best of all.

OUR CABIN

One day my friend and I were out hiking when we came to this cabin. It was a good cabin and we liked it. We went home that night very happy because we had found it.

A week later we went up to it again. To our despair, someone had torn it down. We just stood there wondering what to do, so we cleaned it all up and started building another one.

There was a small pine in back. We cut it down so that it rested on the trees in front of it.

We then cut more trees and laid them crosswise on the middle one. We found some thick cedar bark around and covered the trees laid crosswise.

While I was stacking pine needles on the roof my friend was making a stove inside.

The other day we went up again and burned it down.

Although this story did not win a first or second place the judges feel that it is worthy of mention.

CLASS WILL

We, the Seniors of '51, will our four years of Good Luck to the Seniors of '54. Individually, we leave the following:

I, Harold McCauley, will my ambition to eat to Virgil Flack, who could use a bigger waistline.

I, Pat Wilder, will my book on how to catch a man in five easy steps to Cleowa Smith, who can't make up her mind which man to catch.

I, Don Zink, will my books to Shep, Freckles, Buff, and Zip, who, with a few more credits, might graduate.

I, Faye Miller, can't afford to will anything, as I might need it in my married life.

I, Gene Wildhirt, will my quietness to the band, in hopes they will play a little more music and a few less squawks and squeaks.

I, Earl Wickersheim, will my football pants to Tom Crocker and Virgil Flack; they may each have a leg.

I, Betty Jean Priddy, will the moment I make my graduation speech to Olive Simmons and hope she's not as scared as I am.

I, Frances Smith, will my fondness for school to Johnny Weigle, who could use some.

CLASS PROPHECY

Times being what they were, I stumbled into a hobo settlement, and fell into the soup (a concoction of cans, grease, leaves, and creek water), and as I pulled myself up and out, I saw someone who looked mighty familiar. Of course! Gene Wildhirt, the Great Architect. "When did you get here?" I asked him. "On the six o'clock train," he told me. He offered me a pan of soup, and as we sat down to eat, he said he had seen Don Zink, the famous bootlegger, and that Don had told him about the rest of the class of '51.

Harold McCauley, after trying to get a job in a scientific laboratory, joined the Navy. He was promoted, and now he is a seaman on a second class steamer. Pat Wilder is President of the East Side Beggar's Club, and says she owes her success to the valuable experience she had at HCHS, selling dance tickets, etc. Faye Miller is construction boss of the mammoth ditch project extending from Happy Camp to Seiad. Frances Smith is married to Kenny Runyon, but she thinks she has made a mistake because he hasn't been home in two years. Betty Jean Priddy is lecturing in Southern California, trying to raise enough money to get back to Seiad. Earl Wickersheim is her Business Manager.

As Gene told me this last, a whistle blew. He dropped his food. "Sorry I can't talk to you some more. That's my train, the seven o'clock Limited." As he vanished into the darkness, I finished my soup.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

'Twas a bright, silvery, moonlight night on June 6, 1976 as the class of '51 wound their way briskly up the summit of Mt. Shasta, to celebrate their silver anniversary with the tiny Lumerians. Each had that unusual die-hard spirit; that co-operative spirit so typical in the days of '51.

Leading the pilgrims was our famous Charles Franklin Parker, whose long legs and weak alibis had stood him well.

Following was Joyce Young Bagley. Progress was slow as the baseball nine, ranging from 3 to 12 held onto Mother's skirt.

Helping Joyce with her problem children was Rev. Rolland Steven Walker, kindly and considerate as ever.

Curtis walked sideways, gazing wistfully back at his new Cadillac. Success had come his way.

Just home from a trip to her native Italy was Louise, known the world over by her picture on Fatima cigarettes.

Next in line, huffing and puffing came, our five-by-five Mrs. Joann Vinckier Goodhead. She had journeyed to California from her donkey farm to enjoy the reunion.

William Thomas Anderson, handsome and gallant, carried on his arm his heiress wife and on his shoulders his twin sons. Money always did mean a lot to our Bill.

Winona had kept up the Hitchcock tradition, ten boys followed Ma—screeching, laughing, and bawling.

Then Ali Khan Ahlenstorf, who, having spent a "stretch" for bigamy, had joined the Mormon Church so he could marry the Class of '54. What fond memories of his great popularity were brought to mind.

Then, cooing and smiling and often osculating came our Richard and Virginia. Richard had pursued his heroine for 24 years. Success had at last been his, for our reunion is their first wedding anniversary.

Then came Anthony, Jerry, and Norman, yodeling and strumming their guitars, widely known in the song and dance world as "Tom, Dick, and Harry."

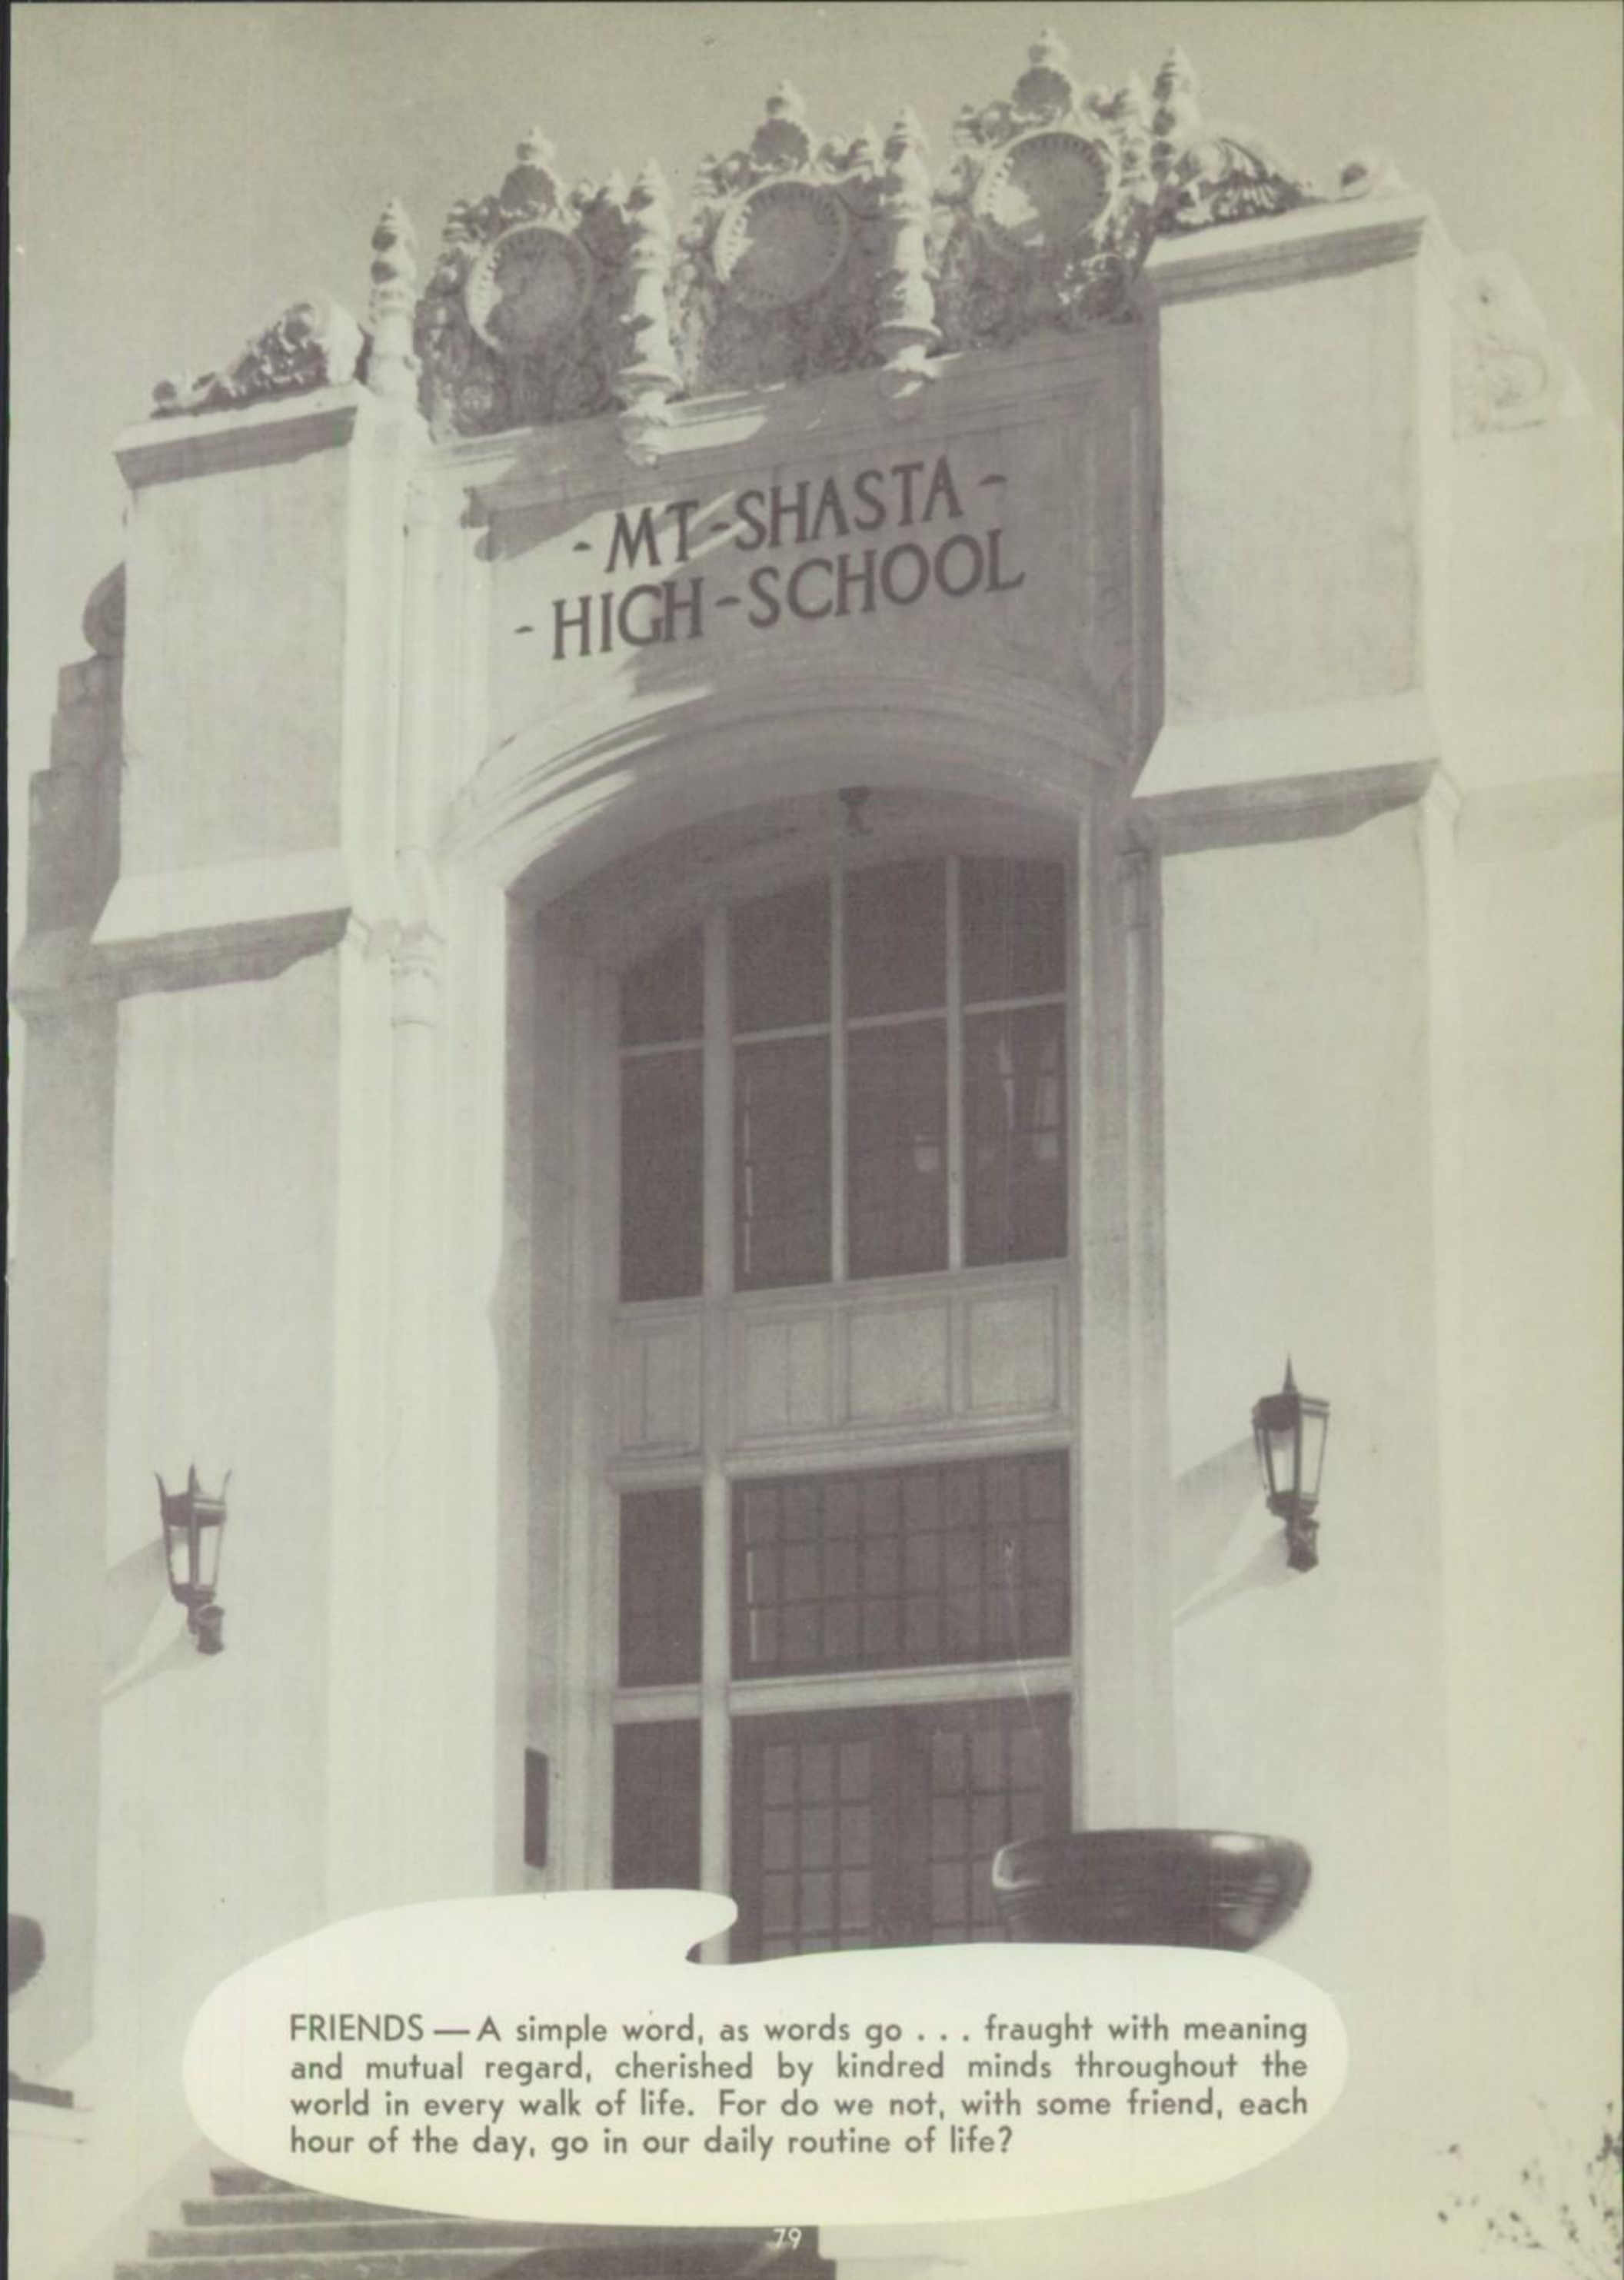
Trudging behind was Robert Jose Martinez.—Late as usual.

At the very foot of the mountain, tinkering with the engine of her bus, was our Joyce Teller—driver now of the McCloud-Pondosa School bus.

Missing was Susie—too busy in Reno, divorcing her fifth husband—she was trying to equal the record of Arlene Judge.

All were eager to reach the summit and compare and laugh over 25 years of interesting experiences.

MOUNT SHASTA HIGH SCHOOL



FRIENDS — A simple word, as words go . . . fraught with meaning and mutual regard, cherished by kindred minds throughout the world in every walk of life. For do we not, with some friend, each hour of the day, go in our daily routine of life?

The Boss

FRIENDSHIP, the theme of our yearbook, is in reality the hallmark of a successful individual. The ability to give and receive friendship indicates that the individual is well-adjusted to his particular niche in life. We, the students and teachers, attempt to promote friendships in school regardless of race, color or creed. To advocate true friendship among schoolmates may appear to be unimportant when considering the state of world affairs, but if everyone in all nations were to lay good foundations of friendship among the young people, then in a few short years, those young people would apply principles of friendship as statesmen and members of the United Nations in their handling of world affairs.

Student Council

Our friends who had a voice in school government

The aim of the student council is to uphold the high standards and fine traditions of Mount Shasta High School, by making suggestions, rules, social plans for the students, all of which helps to encourage good citizenship.

A highly respected group of students, the President of the student body, Vice President, Secretary and Business Manager with the various presidents of the classes and various organizations in membership.

The council endeavors to create a friendly feeling among the students by exemplary attitudes and actions.

The White and Gold Staff dreamed, planned and worked for our year book, they dreamed of friends, worked for friends, searched for friends.

White And Gold

The White and Gold staff under the direction of Mrs. Newing and Mr. Poe, and under the editorship of Patty Bills, endeavored to put out one of the best sections in the recent history of M.S.H.S.

The staff, composed of fourteen students, eight of whom are seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman, has worked long and hard to give the students of Mount Shasta an interesting record of their achievements during the school year of 1950-1951.

Senior History

Graduation day in June will end the careers of thirty-one ambitious students at Mount Shasta High School. Eleven of these students began their careers together twelve long years ago.

We began high school with a class of thirty-four but with old classmates leaving and new ones coming to take their places, we have maintained our group's number to thirty-one.

In the fall of '47 we gathered courage and began our new lives as freshmen. Being initiated was all a part of having fun although it took us a while to realize it. Our first important event was planning a party for the sophomores to show our appreciation for their kindness to us on initiation night. Though our school work seemed to never end we did somehow find time for other activities. We ended our first year with the dreaded exams and by bidding farewell to our leaders, the seniors.

We regained our dignity and became important in student activities in our sophomore year. To be sure, we all took the opportunity of making the new "freshies" miserable by never letting them have a dull moment.

This was the year the "C" Team took the championship. Three sophomores held important positions on this team. Three more of our members were on the CSF. The girls' chorus was well represented with ten sophomores. Shasta Lake was the site for our enjoyable picnic which ended with the usual sunburns.

Our third year was a truly busy year. First of all, being a junior meant taking on the duties of the "mighty" upper classmen. Our class fared quite well with five members on the student council and six of us on the White and Gold staff. June Wright made her debut as a cheerleader while Patty Bills held an all important position as a twirler.

The Mount Shasta band has always included several members of our class. In the freshman year the band had ten students from our class, the second year increasing to eleven while the junior year brought us back to the original number of ten.

Selling pop at the games not only refreshed the spectators' throats but also helped us finance our Junior Prom. The Prom was given on May 5, proving the statement made about "April showers bring May flowers." The theme was "My Isle of Golden Dreams." The Hawaiian decorations were carried out with the King and Queen being crowned with leis of colorful flowers.

Instead of the two student body plays originally planned, the junior class had their annual class play. It was entitled "Spring Fever" and had a cast of ten characters. Our play was well received and we had fun giving it. Of course, our rings were a very important event too.

Seven of the girls from our junior class made the trip to Richardson Springs for a week-end of serious discussions and fun.

Our class has always had a fine percentage of boys in the sports of football, basketball, and baseball. Four junior boys became Junior Firemen, another important organization in high school.

Now we are seniors, headed for the adult world with only our memories of the happy years spent in school. Our officers for this year were: Barbara Cunningham, president; Elmo Franchi, vice-president, and Barbara Ragsdale, secretary-treasurer. Our president, Barbara Cunningham, quit school, leaving her office to Elmo. Under his leadership we resumed our responsibilities as leaders.

On the White and Gold staff there were seven seniors. Seven seniors had offices in the student council, too. Patty Bills and Joyce Bangsberg were cheerleaders while Jay Mills held the important office of student body president. Neil Lark is a lifetime member of the CSF.

Our class colors are red and white and our class flowers are roses. We are looking forward to our play in the spring and we acknowledge our appreciation to Mrs. Astmann for her splendid help in directing these plays.

We are grateful to Mr. Graves and Mr. Richmond for the help they have given us as our advisors.

Juniors at last, were full and our futures o
ones.

The class of '52 made many lasting friendships and accomplished much during the '50-'51 school year.

Under the direction of its class Advisors, Mrs. Newing and Mr. Day, the following officers were elected: President, Joe Lamanna; Vice President, Margaret Nielsen; Secretary, Connie Orcutt; and Treasurer, Carol Mowatt. Class rings which soon arrived, were proudly displayed.

To begin the year we started selling pop, popcorn, hot dogs and pom-poms at games to make money for the junior prom.

The class play, "The Arrival of Kitty," was very successful with a cast consisting of: Joe Lamanna, Connie Orcutt, Margaret Nielsen, Wilma Wright, Darryl Handy, Emery Chandon, David Jones, Paul Roberts, and Judy Meroux, directed by Mrs. Newing with Mr. Day furnishing the music.

ud, our past years were mised to be even fuller

The Junior class did well scholastically with four members in CSF and eight on the honor roll.

We made many friends in other organizations with three juniors in student council, two on the White and Gold staff, one a student body officer, one a cheer leader and ten in the band. Also, most of the girls participated in Girls' League and GAA. Many of the boys were active in football, baseball, and basketball.

The highlight of our junior year was the junior prom given on May 11, in honor of the seniors.

We shall never forget the many old friendships we were able to renew or the new ones we made during our junior year.

Sagacious Sophomores Scored Socially and Scholastically

Sophomore Class

Friends! How we need them! The world and the school revolves around you and the friends you have. As freshmen we made many new friends when we came up from the elementary school into the high school. We waited a long time to become sophomores and finally that day has come. Along with that day also came many more new friends.

The Freshman Public Initiation this year went very well. Then the Freshman Return Party to the sophomores was a big success. It is affairs like the two mentioned above that make life-long friends and create good feelings toward one another.

During the year we had one big project to make money for our junior year. We sold stationery, assorted cards, and wrapping paper to the people in town.

Our class officers this year were: Bob Vietti, President; Bob Stockton, Vice President; and Shirley Mais, Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. Helen Young and Mr. Robert Manley are our Class Sponsors.

A friend in need is a friend indeed.
We came into high school with doubtful glances.
After being here awhile we learned it was wonderful.

Freshman Class

The class of 1954 began school in September with old friends and new friends. After a strenuous initiation by the sophomores they quickly settled down to school life.

A class meeting was held as soon as possible and class officers were elected. George Martin was elected President; Gary Price, Vice President; and Mary Stephens as Secretary-Treasurer. Plans were advanced for the Freshman Return Dance which was held in September, two weeks after the Freshman Initiation. The dance was successful.

Plans were started early in the term for an assembly program, a play, to be presented later in the year. A cast was chosen and practices were begun.

The class made a good start in high school. They had found their teachers and the students friendly and ready to help them.

Achievement and Scholarship mark their future.

We are proud to have in our student body this year sixteen students who have worked hard enough to earn their way into the California Scholarship Federation. This organization is an active one in our school and we are proud to have had these students belong to it. They have achieved this honor by earning throughout the year all A's and B's on their report card for a full semester.

They elect officers twice during the school year. This year's officers were: Neil Lark, President; Patricia Bills, Vice President; Nancy Gower, Treasurer; Lyn Wyllie, Joyce Bangsberg, Secretaries.

Funds this year have come from the sales of candy and cake during the noon hour. With this money they planned to take an educational trip to Redding, but due to snow they were unable to carry through their plans.

We hope that as time goes by we will have more and more students in this honor organization which we are so proud of.

Honor Students

Those students in school who have obtained all A's and B's and only one C during the school year are privileged to have their names on the honor roll at the end of each grading period. This organization is inactive, but we feel that this system is highly instrumental in encouraging the students to do better work in order to belong on the Honor Roll. The students pictured here are the ones who have put forth sufficient effort in order to gain this honor.

With heads high and prancing feet they led our band through every street

Band

The 1950-51 band consisted of forty members, all intensely interested in music. The entire year with its hopes and disappointments was highlighted with the Spring Band Festival held in Chico, at which the band assumed its place with the outstanding bands of Northern California. Other activities of the band members included attendance at the Stockton Clinic, Redding Clinic, Lions' Club Show, Pep Band, Spring Concert, banquet, McCloud Festival, and exchange concert with Dunsmuir High School.

It was only due to the fine leadership of Mr. Day, however, that it was possible for the band to accomplish so much.

Junior Firemen

The Junior Firemen were organized this year a few weeks after school started with Warren McElroy, a member of the Mt. Shasta Fire Department, as their instructor.

Officers were elected at the first meeting with Kenneth Beckham as Chief, Joe Lamanna as Assistant Chief, and Gary Price as Secretary and Treasurer. The members were made familiar with the constitution and by-laws which were drawn up by the Mount Shasta Fire Department.

Meetings are held every Monday night with business meetings the first Monday of each month. The non-business meetings are spent in learning and doing things connected with fire prevention and fighting.

As the year progressed the Junior Firemen hung hose, inspected fire extinguishers and made an inspection of the furnace room and the basement in the high school.

They were given the job to park cars at the high school when there was a large gathering there so the fire hydrants were accessible and entrance to the building was possible in case of fire.

The Junior Firemen are getting some good training and are performing a valuable service to the community in their work.

They marched and drilled as friends to their country

Cadets

In our high school we have a unit of the California Cadet Corps. Captain Thomas Driver is our Commandant and Captain Ted Miller, a senior, is our Company Commander. Our unit is Company A, Second Battalion, First Regiment. The corps is a subsidiary of the army and gives its members military training.

In the fall before the bad weather arrived, drill was held on the football field. After the company became adept at marching, rifles were issued and training was begun in the handling of rifles.

Uniforms were issued as soon as a supply sergeant was chosen; the uniforms had been cleaned and an inventory was taken of the uniforms. The uniforms are worn every Friday.

Firing of .22 caliber rifles is held every Wednesday and Saturday nights.

An opportunity for service and fun is found in this friendly group

Girls' League

The Girls' League is the one organization at Mount Shasta High School which is strictly for the girls. While the main purpose of the organization is service to the school and to foster friendship among the girls it is a social organization too.

The Harvest Hop, the Christmas Ball, the Sock Hop, and the Mothers' Tea were some of their outstanding activities.

Girls' League also helps to finance the expenses of the Richardson Springs Older Girls' Conference delegates.

Girls' League has been helped immeasurably by their sponsor, Mrs. Eastlick.

The officers were: Patricia Bills, President; Janet Orcutt, Vice President; Joyce Bangsberg, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Eastlick, Sponsor.

G.A.A.

GAA stands for the Girls' Athletic Association whose members have a paramount interest in athletics. The girls win awards by participation in inter-class tournaments of volleyball, basketball, and softball in friendly competition.

This group also has several social events throughout the year. Their Gingham Gals' Galop is one of the outstanding dances of the year. This organization also initiated a hot lunch program during the cold weather.

Through these sports, friendship and an interest was built up by skill, determination and understanding.

The officers were: Phyllis Richardson, President; Margaret Nielsen, Vice President; Velma Nelson, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Eastlick, Sponsor.

Friends to all, always cheering our teams on to victory

Cheer Leaders And Pep Club

Fifteen rahs for our cheerleaders and pep club! Pat, Joyce and Connie, those three girls, who, through rain or snow, were always there to lead the pep club in yells. Not only did these girls lead yells but also they tried hard to make friends with our opponents. By doing this they made many friends and created good feelings in and among the schools.

The officers of the pep club were: President, Connie Orcutt; Vice President, Barbara Ragsdale; and Secretary-Treasurer, Janet Orcutt.

Block S Society

At the end of the 1950 season, the Block S Society held their annual banquet at Mike and Tony's, at which time they installed their officers for this year. Those installed into office were: Leo Heer, President; Bob Toms, Vice President; Neil Lark, Secretary-Treasurer. The Block S Society is one of the largest and most active organizations in the school.

This year they have altered the constitution slightly. In order to win a letter and a stripe, a boy must earn a letter in a major sport and a minor sport or two major sports. The list of the names of boys who have earned their block, is then given to the student council for approval.

The purposes of the Block S Society are to improve athletics in this school, to provide a goal and an award for students taking part in the athletic activities of this school and to provide a social organization for athletics of this school.

This year, the Block S Society has also undertaken the big job of paying for their own letter awards from the profits netted from their activities. They are sponsoring dances after the home basketball games and are in charge of the popcorn concession at the games.

They are also making plans for the annual school carnival in which the Lettermen take a large part. Plans are being made for a dance being put on by the Block S Society to raise money for athletic equipment for next year. The Block S Society plans to help the student body buy pants for the football team, new uniforms for the C and D basketball teams, and any other athletic expenses that may occur.

All in all, they are a very busy organization and a great asset to the school.

Bear Growls

Bear Growls, voice of the students, publication which stimulates interest in student affairs and boasts complete news coverage, is sent to Mount Shasta graduates, and is exchanged with high schools all over the country. Each page of the weekly three-column spread radiates with up-to-the minute news, sports, humor, and gossip. Bear Growls effectively uses the throbbing pulsing voice of her press to build up spirit and inform students of her countless activities.

Each journalism student aims for the highest award, that of having his name inscribed on the journalism plaque. Ray Henry was the winner of this award last year, but the other students with a "B" average did not go without recognition. They were awarded pins which they proudly displayed.

Here we are with our friends enjoying life in many ways

Football

This year, due to the limited amount of material, Mt. Shasta has shifted to six-man football. In league competition, Mt. Shasta won two games and lost three games. Considering the fact that this is the first year many of the boys have played football, it could be considered a very successful season, as most of the boys have gained the necessary experience for future football teams. The football team has been coached under the capable hands of Mr. John Darling. The scores of the games played are:

Mt. Shasta	46	McCloud	6
Mt. Shasta	20	Etna	32
Mt. Shasta	47	Ft. Jones	24
Mt. Shasta	18	Happy Camp	51
Mt. Shasta	14	Butte Valley	27

A Team

At the time that this annual goes to press, the A team had won one game and lost four games. There were only three returning lettermen to the A team, so they had to start from scratch. Mr. John Darling has been the capable coach of the A team this year. The scores of the games played to date are:

Mt. Shasta	24	McCloud	48
Mt. Shasta	41	Etna	46
Mt. Shasta	47	Ft. Jones	37
Mt. Shasta	28	Dunsmuir	47
Mt. Shasta	36	Tulelake	44

B Team

Our B's like our A's have won one and lost three. This year's team is composed mostly of players who have moved up from the C team. Thes boys are handicapped by height but make it up through spirit and deceptiveness. The B's are using both a zone and man to man defense. The B team has been ably coached by J. Darling.

Mt. Shasta	24	Dunsmuir	52
Mt. Shasta	20	McCloud	56
Mt. Shasta	47	Etna	57
Mt. Shasta	41	Ft. Jones	29

C Team

The C team did fairly well in their regular season, winning two games and losing three. The C team players are mostly sophomores who had played the D team as freshmen and gained a little experience. The C's used a fast breaking offense and a zone defense, using it very effectively. They were led by Coach Graves, who did a very commendable job. The scores of the games played are:

Mt. Shasta	23	Dunsmuir	28
Mt. Shasta	25	McCloud	24
Mt. Shasta	36	Etna	30
Mt. Shasta	23	Yrega	25
Mt. Shasta	25	Weed	37

D Team

The D team, lacking experience, was unable to win a game. The D team was made up largely of freshmen trying their hand at basketball for the first time. Coach Graves did a fine job with the team. They will make excellent material for next year's C team. The scores of the games played are:

Mt. Shasta	25	Dunsmir	35
Mt. Shasta	18	McCloud	47
Mt. Shasta	13	Etna	15
Mt. Shasta	6	Yreka	10
Mt. Shasta	12	Weed	37

First row, left to right: Donald McCoy, Gary Price, Mr. Graves, Coach; Richard Franchi, Richard Bortolin. Second row: Sam Anderson, Vernon Tolliver, Carl Wilson, George Martin, Jodie Chandon, Paul Russell, Larry Silva.

Baseball

In the 1950 baseball season the Bears lost seven and won one. Due to lack of experience and late spring weather the Bears were unable to win many games. Most of the players were freshmen and sophomores playing high school baseball for the first time. Although they lost, they were willing to learn. Coach John Darling did much for the boys who are expected to show great promise in the 1951 season. The scores of the games played are:

Mt. Shasta	2	Yreka	11
Mt. Shasta	8	Butte Valley	2
Mt. Shasta	6	Fort Jones	5
Mt. Shasta	7	Weed	15
Mt. Shasta	0	Dunsmuir	11
Mt. Shasta	5	McCloud	22

Future Farmers Of America

Under the expert guidance of Verne Hemstreet, the Tulelake Chapter, Future Farmers of America, has participated in numerous activities this last year and has a schedule that will keep them busy for the remainder of the school term.

In the fall, many of the members exhibited their livestock at various fairs and their superior animals won many ribbons. Bill Stonecypher and Tom Decker attended the annual State Convention.

Senior Will

I, Paul Adams, will my laziness to Don Bouey.

I, Louie Andrighetto, take everything with me, leaving nothing to anyone.

I, Lino Bailo, will my gift of gab to Bucky Austin.

I, Jenny Baker, will my sailors to anyone who can hold them, cause I have mine.

I, Dale Barnum, will my ability as a Republican leader to the Democrats of the Junior Class.

I, Larry Benato, will my popularity to some lucky Junior.

I, Manuel Castaneda, will my books, untouched and new, to Jimmy Hayes.

I, Joe Catalano, bequeath my Shakespeare to Salvador Vega.

I, Norma Cates, will my ability to write "mushy" letters to Stephanie Daggett.

I, Johnny Chiment, will my job at the Richfield to anyone who will take it.

I, Norma Chiment, will my quietness to Donna Rae Smith.

I, Barbara Ciabattari, will my book entitled "How to Get Your Man" to the highest bidder.

I, Marlene Curtis, will my Civics book to Mary Ann Scalise.

I, Edgar Davis, will my cute grin to Doyle Kesterson.

I, Joe DeLuca, will my inability to grow hair to Kenyon Knourek.

I, Ed Easton, will my car to Neil Austin.

I, Roger Gibson, leave my ability to get along with the teachers to Fred Bernardi. An apple a day makes a fine-looking "A."

I, James Gilliam, will leave Vonnie to the wolves of Weed High.

I, Avelino Gonzales, leave my job at Adams' to Joe Cena.

I, Marie Heather, bequeath my spotless saddle shoes to Arleen Ault. Secret formula is H2SO6P304 (shoe polish).

I, Shirley Hickey, will my ability to acquire nicknames to some unlucky Junior.

I, Larry Hughes, will my dancing ability to Lave Mazzier.

I, Frank Linville, will leave Weed High quiet.

I, George Linville, will my musical ability to Carl Wilson.

I, Shyla McGrath, will my name to Shirley McGrath.

I, Claude McLain, will my red hair to Twana Phillips.

I, Nina Niles, will my wisecracks to Ruth Niswonger.

I, Frank Paul, will my artistic ability to Stuart Davis.

I, Doris Richards, will my dimples to Kay Kersey.

I, Judy Riley, will my Irish temper to Mary Rios.

I, Gerald Risberg, leave my Chemistry book to Sue Perry with the hope that she will be happy with it. I wasn't.

I, Mary Ritchey, will my size 4½ shoes to anyone who can wear them.

I, Peter Rodriguez, will leave Weed High School for the Navy.

I, Thelma Russell, will my typing ability to Cecilia Salanti.

I, Orsola Salanti, leave Weed High to get married.

I, Marilyn See, will my pug nose to Janice Shelton.

I, Sidney Smith, do will and bequeath my musical talents to Jerry Gilliam. May they aid him in his appreciation of the classics.

I, Gene Stone, will all the money I saved on haircuts to Dino Rossetto.

I, Gary Strider, will my curly hair to Neil Lemos.

I, Rosie Tallerico, will my haunt, the post office, to Sandra Tosi.

I, Nancy Waddell, will my size to Barry Patterson.

I, James Williams, will Weed High to anyone who wants it.

I, Thelma Williams, will my gum to one of next year's yell leaders.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, which is the law making body of Yreka High, meets on each Tuesday of the week to discuss problems concerning the school and to plan assemblies and to keep a smooth schedule in operation. Besides actual Student Body officers, each class and various organizations have a representative in the Council.

George Dailey is a conscientious Student Body President and keeps order at all meetings, with Vice President Cynthia Hittson ready to take over if the occasion demands. Jeannette Kutzer, Secretary, is in charge of keeping minutes and carrying on correspondence while Business Manager Ingrid Johnson has the job of keeping the Student Body funds and reporting regularly. Wayne Cradduck, Athletic Manager, and Jean Franklin, Head Yell Leader, keep our athletic and sports events in good order. Wayne Paulsen represents the Boys' Club and Sally Ryce represents the Girls' league and the problems concerned. Class representatives are: Frank Pangburn, Senior; Pete Crebbin, Junior; Kevin Broderick, Sophomore; and Lee Deter, Freshman. Advisors are Mr. Wann and Mr. McLean.

CLASSES

The Seniors chose a wonderful set of leaders to finish up their school days with a bang. Frank Pangburn was President; Margaret Lilly was Vice President; Lillian Clark, Secretary; Arlene Churchill, Business Manager; Olga Cervellin, Girls' Athletic Manager, and Harvey Smith, Boys' Athletic Manager. The Class of '51 had a very busy year with the Senior Ball being a huge success and having one of the largest crowds which can be remembered. Its theme, "As Time Goes By," tied in nicely with the season. The Senior Banquet was April 17th and a terrific Senior Cut Day really ended up four long years in the right way.

The Class of '52 started their Junior year right by electing Pete Crebbin, President; Glenn White, Vice President; Marrianna Brown, Secretary; Sally Jeter, Business Manager; Billie Hovey, Girls' Athletic Manager, and Gary Pitman, Boys' Athletic Manager. The Junior Prom was a beautiful affair, their theme being "Moonlight and Roses." The Junior Play carried on the idea with a good cast of "The Moon Makes Three." Mrs. Sherman and Mr. McLean did a wonderful job of helping make the play a success.

The Sophomores had a marvelous time this year and leading this bunch of marvels were: President, Kevin Broderick; Vice President, Carla Sanders; Secretary, Harriette Werde; Business Manager, Jean Stanberry; Girls' Athletic Manager, Bobbette Lind; and Boys' Athletic Manager, Richard Hockaday. Their main projects were: The Freshman Reception, the Sophomore Assembly which left everyone laughing, and the sweet "Sweetheart Swirl" at Valentine's time.

The Freshmen had a rough time getting started with initiations and all, but start on their long way they did and with a group of good officers. Lee Deter was elected President; Denny Hume was Vice President; Norman Wilson took care of business and Judy Swenson took over secretarial duties. Girls' Athletic Manager was Gayle White and Boys' Athletic Manager was Duane Burket. They gave the Sophomores a nice return party and spent most of the rest of their spare time trying to earn money for their class.

C.S.F.

C. S. F. stands for California Scholarship Federation and consists of twenty-four brains. These lucky students will get a day off from school as a reward for their "book-larnin'" and will probably go on a picnic some bright sunny day while their classmates stay behind to envy them. The C. S. F. gives life membership pins to graduating Seniors who have earned this honor. Another project is a small scholarship for some worthy Senior who plans to go on to college.

GIRLS' LEAGUE COUNCIL

The first aim of the Girls' League is to get all the girls acquainted and to solve their problems. Its main projects are a Mother's Day Tea and a Fathers' night when the girls entertain their parents.

Girls' League officers are: President, Sally Ryce; Vice President, Barbara Wilson; Secretary, Karna Karstenson; Treasurer, Kay Masters; and Song Leader, Nanette Cole.

Besides these officers, Chairmen of the Entertainment, New Girl and Sunshine Committees and a representative from each class make up the Girls' League Council.

MASQUE and GAVEL

Masque and Gavel, the national high school recognition society for the promotion of speech for use, came into its own at Yreka High School last fall. President is Margaret Lilly; Vice President, Arlene Churchill; Secretary, Eve Rettig; Publicity Manager, Barbara Wilson. There are fifteen members and initiations are held once a semester. The club's first project was the Christmas trees in the main hall. Masque and Gavel was also the guest of Yreka's Toastmasters' Club at one of their meetings in January. Mr. McLean is the club sponsor.

County Champions

We have enjoyed editing your 1951 WHITE and GOLD and hope it will revive memories of this year as you look back upon well known faces and places in High School Days. We had a wonderful staff to back us up and we really appreciate all their help. First of all, we'd like to thank Mr. Agnew and his wife for all their interest and assistance. Then we thank our salesmen and Business Manager, Margaret Lilly, all of whom deserved a lot of credit for taking care of all the finances and ads. Most of all, we really appreciate all the co-operation from every one in general: the football players who dressed for their pictures dozens of times; Snappy, Ray, and Bill, who all helped with the photos; Cox and his handy helpers; the teachers who let us out of classes and let kids out of class for their pictures, and just everyone who made it possible for the annual to be made.

This annual has taken loads of hard work from everyone on the staff. Best of luck to Karna and Sally, who will be your editors next year. Hope you never get locked in the high school from working too late and have to jump out a window like we did. Maybe you'll even get your own annual some day, kids—like we tried so hard to do.

Senior Class Will

I, Marie Kenaston, will my ability to get excused from Mrs. Dennis' class every day to Pat Davis.

I, Joyce Baldwin, will my ability to get the best of the teachers to Patsy and Lois Alexander in hopes they get some use of it.

I, Ann Collins, will my ability to break horses to Barbara Anderson in hopes that the Horse doesn't break her.

I, Carlyle Hillsman, will the Physics Class to the school and hope everyone has as much fun with it as I did.

I, Erwin Dresser, will my hair to Arla Miller in hopes that she will care for it better than I did.

I, Roger Porterfield, will my good looks to Danzil Bolton and trust he will take the same advantage of them.

I, Alice Carter, will my typing to Mr. Webb. Let him try to get along without erasing!

I, Peggy Logan, will my love for horses to Bill Ward in hopes that he will learn to love horses instead of so many girls.

I, Rosemary Robinson, will my ambition to become a veterinary to Roger Hitchcock in hopes he will use it if I don't.

I, Donnabelle Andrus, will my ability to keep out of trouble to Jimmie Cooper. Good luck, Jimmie.

I, Lila Winebarger, will my likes and dislikes to anyone who thinks they can do any better than I did with them.

I, Marguerite Gerlt, will my love of the opposite sex to Wanda Easley who will carry on in my place.

I, Margie Mason, will my giggle to Phyllis Beeson, in hopes that she will giggle twice as much.

I, Barbara Struble, will my stoney stares to Mr. Govedare.

I, Verla Rutherford, will my excellent grades in Bookkeeping and the teacher to Betty Farmer in hopes that she enjoys them as much as I did!

I, Eva Durham, will my temper to Henry Hellman. Maybe with it he will stand up for some of his rights.

I, Doris Simpson, will my knowledge of experience to Velma Reese who may need it some day.

I, Delorez Dodson, will my role of "Tootsie Beane" to Catherine Marmaras in hopes shat she will finally get her man as I didn't.

Senior Class Prophecy

It was the year 1961 when my rocket ship made a forced landing at the Rocket port in Dorris. It seems that my husband, forgetful as ever, had forgotten to put in any atom fuel. I was very furious as I threw open the cockpit door and stepped onto the runways! Suddenly I forgot my anger when I saw coming toward me a WAAC Captain. I was very surprised when I recognized her as an old BVHS classmate, Lila Winebarger. I explained my difficulties and was quickly assured that everything would be fixed up but they were temporarily out of the needed atom gas. Therefore, Captain Winebarger offered to take me on a tour of the City of Dorris.

It seems that the town was having a celebration that day and as we passed the fairgrounds, Lila told me that Anne Collins was a famous rodeo clown and she was still trying to train a horse she got 12 years ago, and that they had moved the Kentucky Derby to Dorris because Roger Porterfield was racing his famous horses that were twice as fast as Man-o'-War.

As we drove on I was surprised to see a new ultra modern building, which I was told was the 40 Club, owned by Erwin Dresser, featuring a 24-hour floor show, starring Donnabelle Winebarger, the former Donnabell Andrus. The next biggest attraction was Carlyle Hillsman, world-famous gambler. Gamble with him and you're sure to lose your shirt.

Hearing so much about my old classmates, I inquired about the rest. It seems that Peggy Logan has settled down on a large ranch in Arizona, after making her fortune in the 1955 Alaskan Gold Rush. Marguerite Gerlt had become a famous society lady giving lectures on "How Wonderful Men Are." Doris Simpson was managing the Standard Station Inc. of California, while her husband, Bud Simpson, was vacationing in Hawaii.

As I could see the town of Dorris had greatly increased in the past ten years. There was now a college where Eva Durham was head of the "Women Are Stronger Than Men" department. Margie Nason was a professor in "The Art of Giggling."

We met Marie Kenaston on her way to the drugstore. She had just taken her two French poodles to the veterinarian, Rosemary Robinson, who was going to get some of Barbara Struble's Sodabobbium serum to cure them.

As we were driving back to the Rocketport, Lila told me that Verla Rutherford was now buying diapers at cost at Alice Carter's New Baby Store. It seems that Verla has quite a family (9 boys) to take care of now.

When we arrived at the Rocketport I found my rocket ship ready for the take-off. I would liked to have remained in Butte Valley longer but I was in a hurry to return to Mars and give my husband a bad time for forgetting the atom fuel. But between you and me I won't tell him what an enjoyable visit I had!

The ambitious "Frosh" made an early start toward being the "Friendly" upper classmen of tomorrow by choosing "Smiling" Allen MacIntyre as President, "Handshaking" Murel Nelson as his helper, "Happy" Pat Davis as Secretary and "Vociferous" Wilma Kindle as Publicity Agent.

The class of "54" survived the friendly overtures of the sophistic Sophomores who presented them with banquets of onion and eggs on initiation day. The "Frosh" arose to give a party to show there were no hard feelings.

The "Frosh" live and work for the day when smiles will be brighter and hand shakes merrier.

IN MEMORIAM

We, the Senior Class of 1951, wish to dedicate our section of the White and Gold to Jack Jeal, class of '46, who paid the supreme sacrifice while serving with the United States Marine Corps in Korea.

SENIOR HISTORY

During the course of four years this class has had, at one time or another, fourteen members, but now has dwindled down to three.

Mary Ann has attended school at Fort Jones all twelve years.

Gae joined the class in the third grade, after moving from Weed.

Carma transferred here from Tucson, Arizona as a Junior. These three girls have been active members of the Student body and the G.A.A.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class, do will and bequeath our most cherished possessions and charming virtues to our innocent colleagues, the Senior Class of '52. May they use them as they see fit.

I, Carma Volner, do will and bequeath my first engagement to Leora Landrum.

I, Mary Ann Branson, do will and bequeath my "horse sense" to Mary Helen Cardoza.

I, Gae Evans, do will and bequeath my big stack of letters to Agnes Mello.

SENIOR PROPHECY

I have just returned from a trip to Paris where I attended the 1965 National Ladies Aid Convention, and much to my surprise I found none other than Mary Ann Branson the President of it. I had a talk with her and she said that shortly after she had graduated she attended college and took up all the foreign languages and decided to "get to know the World."

It so happened that I ran across Gae Evans and she informed me that she is now the Mrs. Henry Longfellow XXXIX. She had just returned from a trip to Mars with her husband. Gae decided she liked airplanes so she had invented a new fang-dangled, supersonic, jet job, and tried it out by leaving the Earth for a couple of days. She said that it wasn't exciting so she is going to invent something else now that will go faster and farther.

Carma Volner Cadola was at the airport in New York and she and her quadruplets, all boys, twin girls, and triplets, two girls and a boy, were just preparing for a trip to Hawaii to visit her husband Bill. It seemed to me she mentioned that Bill was allergic to children so she only went to visit him once a year. It took the rest of the year for him to recuperate.

I had a very short but sweet visit with the Class of 1951 and was very much amazed at what I found them all doing to occupy their time.

Students Everywhere
Hundreds of thousands of students throughout the nation will treasure their Taylor-made Yearbooks for many years to come.
Thousands of teachers and school administrators welcome their Taylor-made Annuals as a necessary part of their Parent and Public relations program.
We are proud to have had a part in preserving the memories, traditions and achievements of the schools of America.
